

When a guy comes into this world, people have to figure out what his name is. That took a while for Parker, "Brenrich Nitewater Harrison Parker". The "Harrison Parker" part seemed like a good fit. Until then, he was known as "Little Big Stuff," after his dad. His dad was nicknamed "Mr. Big Stuff." ("Who do you think you are?") - a guy whose soft approach and sense of humor was so beguiling that it was easy to forget who was leading whom. <g>

Aspirations for the show ring weren't in keeping with the outcome, but we had a lot of fun along the way.
